ABOUT ME

I'm a driven and strategic individual with a strong interest in music, technology and creating engaging user experiences.

I combine creativity, analytical thinking and a passion for problem-solving to design clear, intuitive and meaningful digital products.

I thrive in collaborative, cross-functional environments, turning complex ideas into clear, user-focused designs.

PERSONAL QUALITIES & CAREER GOALS

I am a driven, analytical, and sociable individual with a natural ability to engage with people. I am detail-oriented, organized, and place great value on always doing my best. I have never hesitated to take on new challenges, which has allowed me to grow and develop.

My strength as a team member lies in my humility, clarity, and directness. I set high standards for myself and for those around me. My goal is to work at a company where my role plays an important part in contributing to both my colleagues' and the company's success.
